The SPIRIT

Of The NORTH

The Spirit of the North lies in the hearts of all T.F.N. students. However, it is never hidden for long, for it emerges in its friendly way to influence the life of everyone who seeks an education behind its red brick walls. The Spirit shows up in the fall for registration; it glows in the friendly faces of office workers handing out programs and schedules. It is there in the frost bitten nights of the many exciting football games and in the happy anticipation of Homecoming. This Spirit is present in the rosy cheeks of students as they tramp their way to school in the snowy wintertime and in the welcome, tingling warmth when they peel off their layers of clothing.

When spring arrives, although no longer stimulated by wintry winds, the Spirit of the North is never inactive. Remember the Mother-Daughter party, the Father-Son party, the Boys' Club Dance and the Prom? Most of all, the Spirit of the North lingers in the classrooms where eager, determined faces indicate that the quest for learning continues.

What, then, is this Spirit of the North? It is that intangible, vibrant, and youthful quality imbued in the hearts and minds of T.F. students, embraced in the lasting friendship between the students and faculty, and exemplified in each graduate who "goes forth to serve".

Superintendent Jackson Kiester

Kind and understanding, Superintendent Jackson Kiester is a valuable asset to the progress of T.F.N.

A veteran of the teaching profession, Mr. Kiester, aroused the Spirit of the North by his untiring efforts. With unceasing devotion to the cause of education he carries out his duties to the fullest capacity, receiving the appreciation of the student body and his colleagues.

Assistant Superintendent and Principal

Aitken F. Young

The genial and understanding personality of Principal Aitken Young adds greatly to the educational progress as well as to the friendly Spirit of the North. Through his dedicated and amiable manner, he has put into practice effective educational policies for the improvement of Thornton Fractional North.

PRINCIPAL AITKEN F. YOUNG

Improvement Was Their Goal

Responsible for school finances was the business manager, Mr. Henry Legg.

The best of educational facilities for District 215 were the objectives of the Board of Education. With their help much needed additions to the school are now under construction. Improvement of the whole school system also goes under the supervision of this policy-making group.

Helping students and teachers all the while;
They answered phones with a pleasant smile.

With this unintentional rhyme, we have mentioned only one of the chief duties of the secretaries. As a result of the constant clickety-clack of their typewriters, the secretaries also provided us with daily bulletins, circulars and even the abominated tests which were necessary to a school such as ours.

As harried students ran into the bookstore between classes, they were sometimes surprised to find that there were no more copies of that certain book.

However, this was a rare circumstance, for the bookstore, under the direction of Mrs. Bobbie Oliver, served T.F. well.

With a guiding spirit the Boys' Club strove toward the objectives of leadership, service and participation in school activities by all T.F.N. boys.

These goals were accomplished by services made by the club. Some of these services included the adoption of a small Korean orphan, the annual Boys' Club Dance, the Father-Son party, the football refreshment stand, and the after-game sock hops.

Standing: Sue Makowski, Becky Brandon, Nancy Gerlich, Miss Irma Stefanini, sponsor; and Pat Flaherty. Sitting: Fran Maggio and Marlene Dannehl.

The ideals of femininity were discussed among the freshmen members of Girls' Club as they attended this year's Chocolate Chats. The officers and board members, too, tended to mind their "P's and Q's" when the annual tea appeared on the scene.

With inspiration and good humor Miss Irma Stefanini, sponsor of Girls' Club, imbued the spirit of friendliness and helpfulness. During the year girls made dolls and animals for local orphanages and hospitals, decorated for the annual Girls' Club dance, sold candy at games, and in general had "loads of fun."

Third row: Arlene Krol. In foreground: Donna Emanuel.

The Spirit of the T.F. North players showed itself again this year when more than 200 students joined the 1962-63 Dramatics Club. All club members who participated in both "Oklahoma" and "The Music Man" will recall the hard work and many long rehearsals required for the presentations.

Row 5: Larry Greenwold, Walter Uebler, David Whitney, Millard McGuire, James Wasik, and Lee Bernick.

The club members, however, were also able to work on various committees as well as act in the musicals. Smearing greasepaint, falling off ladders while painting scenery and becoming expert seamstresses earned members many needed points. These points, when recorded regularly aided members to be inducted into the National Thespian Society.

FRESHMAN MEMBERS

In foreground: James Sayre, president.

Leadership . . .

Thornton Fractional North's Presidential Advisory Board or better known as P.A.B. functioned as an advisory body for school projects. Consisting of representatives and presidents of every club at North it supervised activities as Homecoming, Carnival and the Charity Dance.

Parading through the halls comically disguised in their humorous paper hats, sweat shirts and colorful ski sweaters, T.F.N. students enjoyed those days sponsored by the P.A.B.

After the swift victory of the Meteors over their sister school, T.F.S., the P.A.B. sponsored a victory dance.

Under the supervision of Miss Katherine Brazzill, the P.A.B. decided on various school issues and often related the wishes of the administration to the student body.

F.T.A. OFFICERS

Igniting the intellectual spark of the Spirit of the North was the Future Teachers' of America Club. Endeavoring to find out why Johnnie can't read, write, or spell, the club hoped to iron out some of the difficulties of today's teachers when they stand before a classroom of the future.

The T.F. letter was proudly displayed by the boys of the Monogram Club, as they wore their sweaters every Friday to back up the spirit of the teams and students.

"Yellow Jackets," the uniforms of the ushers, were a familiar sight when worn by the Monogram Club, as they performed one of their other duties by keeping order during assemblies.

Members also presented flowers to the mothers at the annual "Fathers' Night" at one of the fall football games.

The magic ticket to the admission of this high spirited club, was a well earned varsity letter in any one of the sports presented at North.

Pep . . .

"Yeah, Team, Fight! Yeah, Team, Fight! Yeah, Team, Fight! Fight, Fight!" was only one of the many cheers that members of Pep Club shouted this year as they boosted school spirit, their primary goal.

Clad in distinctive yellow and purple vests, approximately 200 members truly exhibited the "Spirit of the North" by creating a lasting impression on visiting teams.

Hoping to raise sufficient funds for cloth vests to be used next year, Mrs. Wesley Evers, club sponsor, and the club undertook various projects such as selling booster pins, pompoms, vests, "Rob the Rebel" ribbons, and Meteor badges.

The club's efforts to strengthen the morale of the team were not in vain as the Meteors produced an all-around winning record.

Vitality . . .

The former Girls' Athletic Club acquired new status this year by becoming affiliated with the Girls' Athletic Association under state supervision.

The Spirit of the North rode high for each team as the girls participated in a tournament after a period of practicing each sport. Excitement was felt by everyone when the classes played against each other. The seniors usually dressed up in crazy costumes and put on a skit before they battled with the juniors.

"Try your luck at throwing the ping pong ball into the goldfish bowl," was the shout of G.A.A. members at the Carnival. They also, as in previous years, sold paper hats.

In April a playday, the theme of which was "Mighty Meteor Day," was held when twenty members of G.A.A. from neighboring schools were invited to enjoy a day of playing different sports. The teams were made up of a few girls from each school.

"Help! I'm drowning!" was not a familiar cry heard among the freshmen swimmers, when T.F. North's swim leaders were on the job. The leaders encouraged the timid freshmen to take a dip and taught them proper swimming techniques, in addition to saving would-be drowners.

They also tried to avoid medical bills for broken fingers by instructing the pupils about the rules and practices of each sport.

Baby elephants invaded the swimming pool at the 1962 Carnival as the senior members of Terrapin Club did their water ballet to "Baby Elephant Walk."

After the Carnival, a series of tests took place for the entrance of the new "guppies" into the club, under the direction of Miss Mary Shemaitis, sponsor. Girls who enter the club are chosen because of their ability to swim with grace and rhythm through the blue depths of the pool.

The club held an annual splash party to which the boys' swim team was invited. The last event of the year was the picnic for Terrapin members only.

Girls were buzzing around the library like busy bees in a honeycomb during their free periods, under the direction of Miss Frances Hunnell Library Club sponsor.

A point a day was accumulated by these girls to reach the set goal of 100 points at the end of the year.

Thus the girls were enabled to receive their pin in various colors according to the number of points they had at the annual banquet held in May.

Gay posters, picturing perhaps a snowy interlude, encouraged T.F.N. students to attend dances, games and concerts. This service was made possible by the Art Club, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Lembcke.

The members of the Art Club lifted the "Spirit of the North" to new horizons. They devoted their talents toward helping others by making favors for convalescent homes and painting the scenery for dramatic productions. They even used their musical talents at Christmastime in caroling "Adestes Fideles."

When your television set breaks down, don't spend unnecessary money calling in a repair-man; just call in a member of T.F.'s newest club, the Electronics club!

The club members have worked on various projects during their own free time while bringing in their electrical problems to Mr. Raymond Hess, the club's sponsor.

The Tones of Our Spirit Ring Out With Fidelity .

Springing into the air to catch elusive batons, T.F.N. twirlers amased earthbound spectators with their dexterity and agility at football and basketball games. They practiced vigorously every morning to attain more spectacular performances.

Rhythm . . .

After having studied original arrangements "hot off the stands" of Gerry Mulligan and given to the band personally by "Stan" Kenton, our own Dance Band was able to capture an "excellent" rating at the Oak Lawn Jazz Festival in February. The group also served during the year as the backbone for two musical productions, "Oklahoma" and "Music Man."

Under the direction of Mr. Paul Mazzacano the Dance Band gave concerts throughout the elementary schools of Calumet City, encouraging young musicians and exposing them to the exciting and rewarding challenges of North's Dance Band.

Squeaks and squeals often came from the bandroom as tenderfoot musicians attempted to learn the fundamental techniques of a music education. Whether to push the first valve or the second was a question often pondered by many a new tuba player. Finally, however, after mastering the basic notes and rhythms, the members of the Cadet Band were eventually advanced to the Intermediate Band, where Mr. John Smely continued their music education.

Concordia . . .

Spreading good will was the aim of T.F. North's singing ambassadors, the Northernaires, as they perfomed at various schools, churches, and social functions.

Carrying T.F. spirit into the western United States, the Northernaires entertained in Denver, Colorado, for an International Kiwanis Convention in the summer of 1962.

The group, composed of 24 members, sang at the annual Spring and Winter concerts, the athletic banquet and at graduation. They also participated in the Christmas assembly.

Tryouts for this singing and traveling organziation conducted by Mr. John Smely were held in the early spring of 1963 for the purpose of replacing the graduating seniors.

Since several requirements must be met for inclusion in the group, membership is a coveted honor.

Serenity . . .

Singing difficult music such as the "Hallelujah Chorus" and the "Peaceable Kingdom" was a challenge to the spirit of this year's Advanced Chorus under the direction of Mr. Paul Mazzacano.

Besides singing at the Winter and Spring Concerts the students entertained T. F. South in the spring.

Aiding the conductors in this as well as other musical groups were the four spirited accompanists, better known to them as "My Guardian Angel" or "Knuckles."

And Melody

The "musical" Spirit of the North was apparent in the performances of three freshmen choruses, the Freshmen Girls' Choruses of Mr. John Smely and of Mr. Paul Mazzacano and the Freshmen Boys' Chorus.

Under the direction of these leaders, the apprenticc musicians produced "the sweetest sounds" and filled the music rooms with "the sound of music."

The girls used their feminine wiles in songs like "Tammy" and "Tonight" from "West Side Story," while the boys displayed masculine charms in numbers like "Stouthearted Men."

Willingness To Work Is Shown

Exemplifying the Spirit of the North with their willingness to work, students in the Business Office, Deans' Office, General Office, and Activity Room kept T.F.N. "in gear." They were ever the spirit of activity, whether scurrying through the halls collecting absence slips, or tearfully eyeing a shattered fingernail broken while typing forms and letters.

Resisting the temptation to munch candy bars, the girls delegated by Miss Adeline Jaacks, the "guiding spirit of 207," dutifully performed their tasks. They even acquired "dishpan hands" by washing coins which had become soiled during the basketball and football games!

"Keep the presses rolling!" urged Jill Benjamin, this year's editor of the Thorntonian to Gloria Laczny, assistant editor.

Using their "noses for news" these young journalistic writers developed and displayed their talents in the new additions to the paper.

The informative "I Spy" was among the many new columns. "Letters To The Editor" allowed students to voice their own opinions.

Promoting the Spirit of the North through her faithful guidance was the primary contribution of Miss Mildred Pidgeon to the 1963 Chronoscope. Miss Pidgeon gave her time and effort to spur the progress of the Chronoscope by answering staff questions and checking copy material and layouts. Without the assistance of Miss Pidgeon this yearbook could not have been made possible.

MISS MILDRED PIDGEON

And Advice . . .

MISS ADELINE JAACKS

Adding another twinkle to the stars shining in the crown of the Spirit of the North is the friendly and hard-working Miss Adeline Jaacks, T.F.N.'s financial advisor. Sales of game tickets, candy, magazines, pictures, and club pins include just a few of the many activities directed by Miss Jaacks in her daily schedule. Her tireless efforts in supervising the financial affairs of publications were essential in the production of the Chronoscope.

DREAMS & MEMORIES

ORIGINATE THROUGH

1962 Homecoming Queen, Barbara Bytnar, is surrounded by her court, Pati Swisher, Joyce Diggs, Anne Piccirilli, Jackie Benjamin, and Melanie Klasna.

Expectation . . .

Torrents of rain poured down over this year's Homecoming game but did not hinder the coronation of royalty as Barbara Bytnar was crowned Homecoming Queen of 1962 by JoAnn Gunther, 1961 Queen, at the indoor ceremony.

Homecoming was the highlight of the season as former T.F.'ers, drenched from the rain but cheering their team on to victory, once again became loyal fans to their alma mater. The Meteors clashed with Crete-Monee in a muddy, slippery battle, adding another victory of 33-6 to their 1962 record. After the decisive defeat, crowds flocked to the gym to witness the climax of the Homecoming festivities, the crowning of the queen. The lovely candidates were escorted by rugged North gridmen to center stage, accompanied by the traditional Homecoming song, "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi." After the anxious moments of waiting and a rolling of drums, Barbara was crowned and reigned at the annual Homecoming dance. She gave each member of her court a red rose from her bouquet as former queens had done. But, indeed, we do not need a rose for a remembrance of this year's Homecoming, for we shall never forget it. The "Spirit of the North" shone in the happy faces of the queen, her court, the victorious football team, and of all T.F.'ers.

Regally standing under a T.F.N. banner, which truly symbolizes the Spirit of the North, is Barbara Bytnar, the 1962 Homecoming Queen.

Royalty . . .

"The King and Queen!"

Carnival King Bill Magurany joins Carnival Queen Sheila Enright and her court: Anna Faye Scott, Lana DeMarte and Laurel Lewkowski.

Centered amid the thrills and excitement of this year's Carnival was the crowning of Bill Magurany and Sheila Enright as Carnival King and Queen. This royal couple reigned throughout the entire affair which will remain an unforgettable evening in the lives of all of us.

Bill Magurany, Carnival King, and his court: Bob Kotecki, Allen Fedosky, and Jim Wojcikiewicz.

Gay music was presented by this instrumental trio as they belted out "If I Had A Hammer."

"Yes, sir," said Sandy Magdaz, "Rosie's Gone Again!"

Smooth movements characterized this group of girls as they danced to "Night Train."

Reminiscence . . .

"Be A Clown, Be A Clown," were the words sung enthusiastically by the entire cast for the finale of the 1962 Carnival.

Chris Crussen seemed to get the bad end of the deal in the presentation of "Officer Linky."

Fancy footwork was a specialty of John Erickson as he danced to "Goofus."

"Lester, you've been a bad boy"'

Gaiety . . .

Under the enchantment of a lovely winter scene dancers contemplate the festivities.

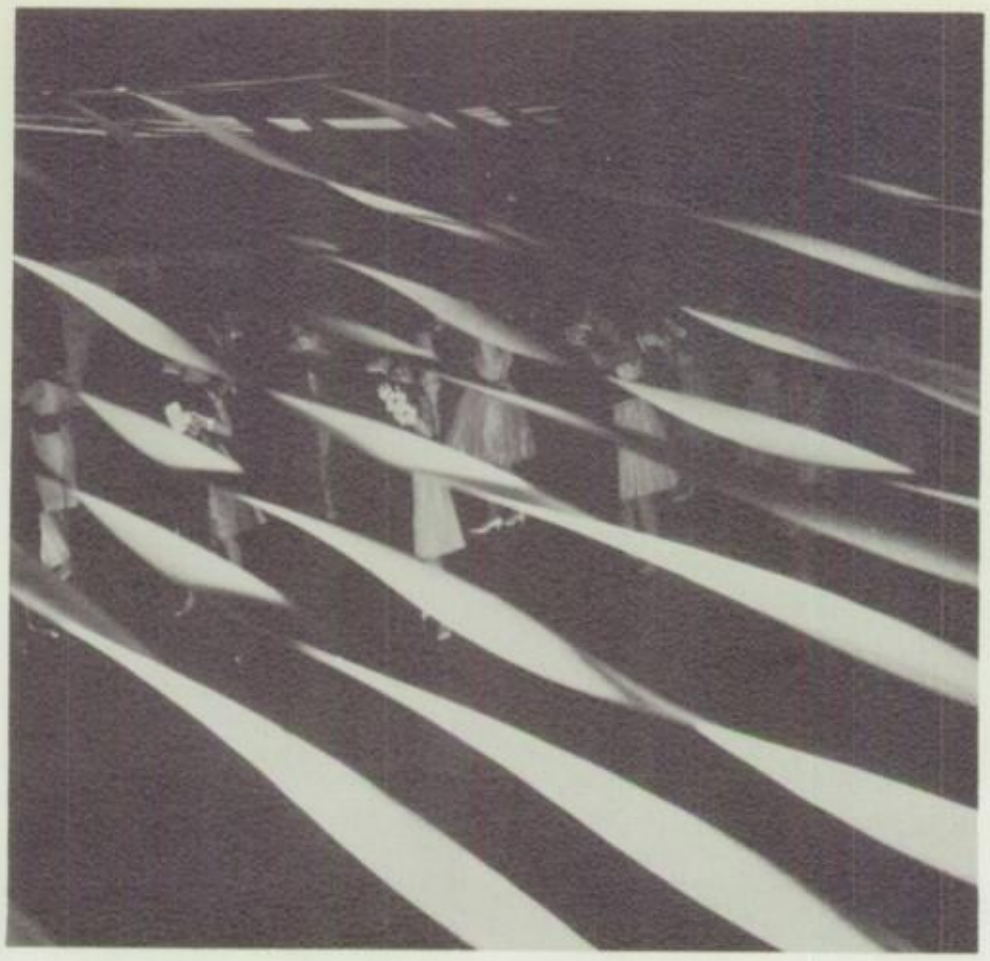
Linda is a picture of happiness.

The spirit of an "Icy Interlude" crept romantically into the North gymnasium on the frosty night of December 8 to set a memorable atmosphere for those who attended the 1962 Girls' Club Dance. Bathed in the glow of an entrancing "aurora borealis" of cherry red and silver suspended from the ceiling, the dancers whirled around a miniature "polar sea" spanned by a snow-covered bridge.

Happy couples dance dreamily under a sky draped with cherry red and silver streamers.

Ed reminds Josie of the time, but she insists on one more dance.

Festivity . . .

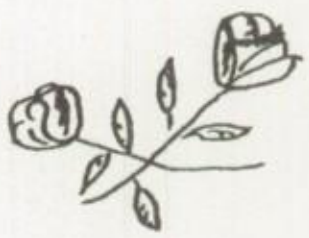


Stremers of red, white, and blue transformed the gym into a "mariner's paradise" at the 1963 Boys' Club dance.

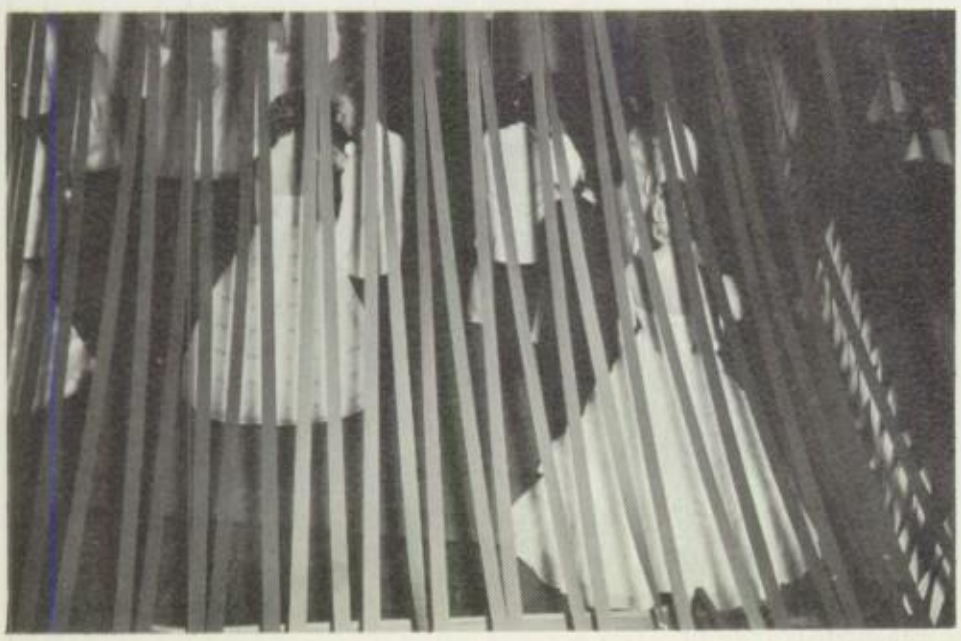
"Ship-a-hoy!" was the seaworthy expression that encouraged the plans and decorations of the annual Boys' Club dance, as it projected for each couple the tropical atmosphere of a "Caribbean Cruise."

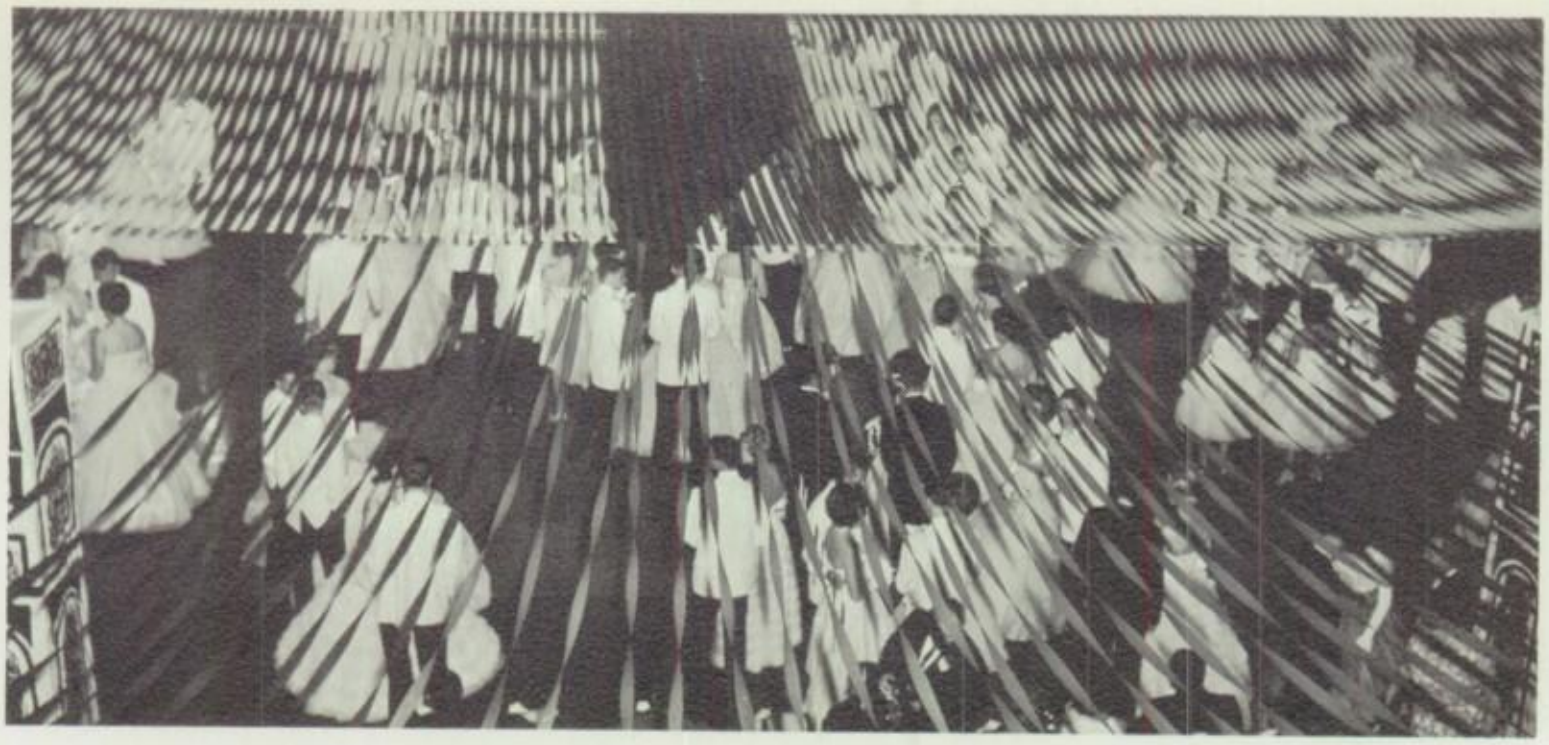
Gay music highlighted the evening as couples danced to the rhythm of the Al Volpe Orchestra.

The nautical atmosphere of the Boys' Club dance enhanced each couple with the buoyant serenity of a "Caribbean Cruise"



An Evening





In Paris

The sceptical Mayor Shinn (Jim Borbely) warns Harold Hill against any further band activities as Marian Paroo, played by Linda DeRosa, congratulates her brother (Tim Keilar) for his sudden willingness to ~~talk~~ despite of his lisp. Watching this action is Mrs. Shinn, played by MaryJo Enright.

The town biddies tell the latest gossip about Marian Paroo to the "understanding" Professor Hill, portrayed by Allan Fedosky.

Allan Fedosky explicitly describes "The Sadder But Wiser Girl" to the interested Marcellus (Ken Arney).

And Beginning

Mrs. Paroo, portrayed by Bobbi Serafini, question Professor Harold Hill about the band.

Members of the town are amazed to hear Winthrop (Tim Keilar) singing in expectation of the "Wells Fargo Wagon."

With a little help from Melody and Sandy Ovanek, Gene Sabo, playing cowboy Will Parker, proved that he could dance as well as ride a horse.

Aunt Eller, portrayed by Pati Swisher, really meant it when she said, "The Farmer and The Cowman should Be Friends!"

Ken Arney, portraying Curly, explains to Aunt Eller that he was shooting at knotholes in the ceiling and not at Jud, played by Dominic Femminella.

"Barrymores . . . "

Ado Annie's father, played by Jim Borbely, made quite an impression on Allen Fedosky, the "peddler" man, in this scene.

In "It's A Scandal", the boys learned that it pays to listen to the girls!

This year's varsity football team compiled a fine record of five wins and three losses, the best record accomplished by a T.F. gridiron team for nearly 25 years.

Spirit was provided by the student body and the followers of the team. The roars and cheers were even louder than usual this year, as an all-time attendance record was set.

Pep sessions, combined with large crowds, generated spirit and enthusiasm in the North team, especially when the Meteors defeated T.F. South.

Hardiness . . .

Spirit and determination were outstanding factors in this year's sophomore football team.

In compiling a 3-5 record, Mr. Albrecht's crew was unusually on the short end of the size situation. This made little difference to the fighting Sophs as their hard conditioning and solid mental attitude was substituted for their lack of size.

The hustle and team spirit within this team should be a valuable asset to next year's varsity gridiron team.

This year's freshman squad, while learning mostly fundamentals and basic offense and defense, was able to produce a fine 6-2 record.

Coaches Bob Richards and Bruce Merson were mainly interested in training the young Meteors for future varsity play.

Although there was no real conference crown, the freshman squad can be considered mythical champs with no conference losses.

If this squad keeps playing the kind of ball they did this year, T.F.N. will remain strong on the varsity level for at least the next three seasons.

Recording the best season in over a decade, this year's Meteor team posted a 10-9 record.

Coach Walter Horvatich enjoyed his finest season in his brief coaching stint at T.F.N. The Meteors showed unexpected poise in battling to a third place finish in the SESC. Rated fourth in a pre-season poll by the coaches, North proved to be a tough challenger for the title. The season was highlighted with a seven game winning streak, the longest for quite some time at North.

The outlook for next year is even better for the Meteors because three of the first five starters and two of the top reserves were juniors, including SESC scoring champ Wayne Puckett. This year's championship sophomore team will also be moving up. Consequently the Meteors look forward to a good 1963-64 season.

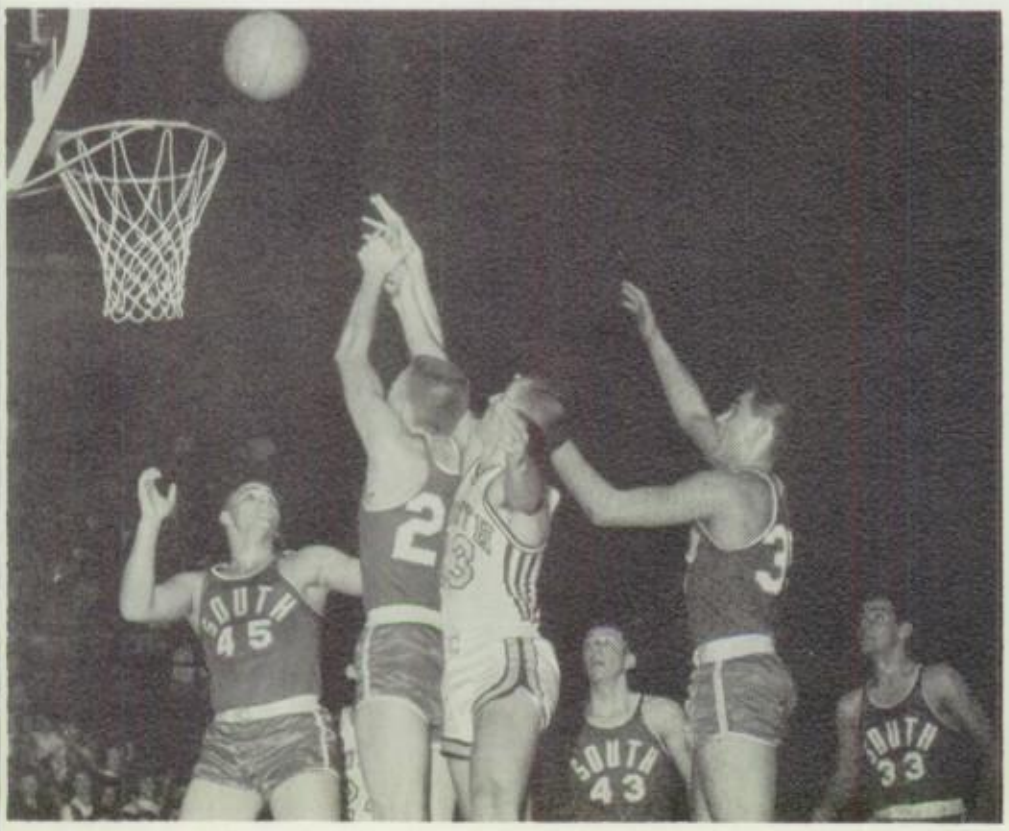
Running all the way down the floor, Mark Malak makes two for the Meteors.

"Tipping it to the North side" was the aim of Meteor Wayne Puckett.

Joe DeRosa, 13, attempts to tighten the scoring margin for the Meteors and fights his hardest to obtain the ball



"Whoops, wonder where the ball is!"

Ted Boczkowski goes high for rebound against arch rival T.F. South.

Through the efforts of team spirit and hard work Coach Ray Buvala and his sophomore squad posted another fine season as they finished their record as co-champions in the Southeast Suburban Conference.

For the second year sophomore cagers brought back first place honors in conference play. Inspired by a determined coach and by a desire to win they were able to attain this goal.

Their record indicates a promising future in T.F. basketball.

Industry . . .

Recording a 14-2 season record and 6-1 in the conference, this year's freshman cagers, coached by Mr. Fred Luke, forecast good basketball for the future at T.F.N.

Although possessing only average height, the young Meteors used both pattern ball and fast break, but most of their success can be accredited to their accurate shooting.

While learning the basic fundamentals and defense, the squad showed good offensive ability in overwhelming most of their opponents by large scores.

With these boys moving up to the sophomore team next year, it is the hope of T.F. students that they will again be among the title contenders as in the past two years.

Support . . .

"Yea! Team! Fight!" shouted T.F. North cheerleaders as they exuberantly led the student body at football games.

Although hoarse throats and sore muscles often resulted as they bounced into the air with the resiliency of rubber balls, they dutifully cheered throughout the games regardless of rain, snow, sleet, or sometimes even heat.

Boosting school spirit ventured even further when T.F.'s Junior Varsity Cheerleaders zealously led the student body in shouts of encouragement for their team. The four enthusiastic girls practiced weekly with a goal of becoming members of the varsity cheerleading squad.

Although their number had been reduced from six, as in previous years, to four, they made up in volume what they lacked in number.

Agility . . .

This year's wrestling squad, coached by Mr. Al Vega, aroused an increase of interest in the sport and at the home meets a great improvement in attendance over that of past years was in evidence. Among the better teams defeated were Hammond High School, Indiana State Champions for the past two years, and T.F.S., who also placed in the Illinois State Tournament. T.F.N. placed 11th among more than 200 teams in the Illinois State Tournament. Individuals who placed were Romeo Casiano, 3rd place; Jasper Mangiarcina, 6th place; and Ed Albiniak, 10th place.

Endurance . . .

This year's sophomore wrestling team under the supervision of Mr. James Swanson, had a combined record of 7 wins and 7 losses. Although the record is not impressive, the midget grapplers finished well, winning the last four meets and taking third in the conference. Coach Al Vega will be counting on some of these boys next year to take the places of graduating seniors.

Zeal . . .

The varsity splashers, their roster decked with underclassmen, swam their way to a season record far under par and far under their capability. With only two seniors on the team the juniors and sophomores were demanded to carry the load. They did as well as rather inexperienced swimmers could and finished with a season record of 5 wins, 1 tie and 8 losses.

Nevertheless, several individual records were broken this year and with all but two team members returning, it is hoped more records will be broken next year.

Varsity diver Bob Walker goes through warm ups in preparation for coming swim meets.

VARSITY BASEBALL TEAM

Kneeling: Mark Malak, Tom Bednarz, Ray Chwastowicz, Larry Hagerman, Ed Lawhead, and Bob Bednarz.
Standing: Mr. George Sobek, Jim Bigott, Wayne Puckett, Dennis Stanek, Jon Taylor, Eugene Cittadino, Ron Matula, . and Wayne Gapsiewicz.

Under the direction of Mr. George Sobek, also Dean of Boys, this year's varsity team showed fine skill all through the season.

Coordination . . .

Up to date the Meteors post a fine 9-2 season record. Because of the printing date of this book only part of the season can be covered.

With the minimum amount of luck the Meteors can boast of their finest season in over five years. Although the fielding team was made up mostly of juniors Coach George Sobek has an experienced squad.

Next year the Meteors will probably be among the area leaders on the diamond, since most positions will be held by returning members of the team.

Ball-hawking outfielder, Wayne Gapsiewicz, goes high to pull in fly-ball for the Meteors.

Double play combination, Tom Bednarz and Mark Malak, go through the motions during practice.

Going through the motions is Jim Bigott, the Meteor fireballer.

Ron Matula fields grounds and sets himself for the throw.

Exhileration . . .

The frosh-soph swim squad was a victim of unfortunate circumstances this year. Coach Bruce Merson was forced to move the best of the underclassmen up to the varsity level, leaving the remaining freshmen and sophomores to fare as best they could. Consequently, it was difficult for them to attain great heights. Their capacity as an entire group, however, was illustrated by the trouncing T.F.N. frosh-sophs gave Whiting when the underclassmen, who normally swam on the varsity squad, were brought down for this meet. Though their frosh-soph record was poor—1 win and 6 losses—this group will be one to observe in the future.

Skill . . .

Under the direction of a new baseball coach, Ray Buvala, this year's young Meteors are enjoying an 8-2 record. Since the season will end after press time we cannot give the final records and statistics.

The sophomores now stand 6-1 in the Conference and are tied for first place.

So far, a 4-3 victory over arch-rival, South, has been the top game of the season. If the boys keep playing good ball, no doubt they will finish with one of the best sophomore baseball seasons in recent years.

Some of these boys will help next year's varsity team, which looks as if it will be one of the area's best.

Acceleration . .

Undefeated, the T.F. North varsity thinclads finished their season with an overall record of nine wins, no losses and one tie.

Coach Bob Richard's crew was pitted against such teams as Dyer Central, Hammond Clark, and Bradley, usually among the powers in track in this area. The Meteor's lone tie came in the South meet, as both teams finished with 59 points.

Improvements were made in all field and running events. With many of this year's squad members returning in 1963-1964, the outlook is most promising.

Celerity . . .

The Meteor frosh-soph runners, under the direction of Coach Lee Albrecht, concluded a .500 mark season of 5 wins and 5 losses.

From a band of inexperienced freshmen and year old sophomores, Coach Albrecht developed a team of boys who showed great potential and willingness.

Through the fine direction of Coach Albrecht, the Meteor cindermen have now formed a strong basis for future consistent winning years.

In foreground: Phillip Jones.

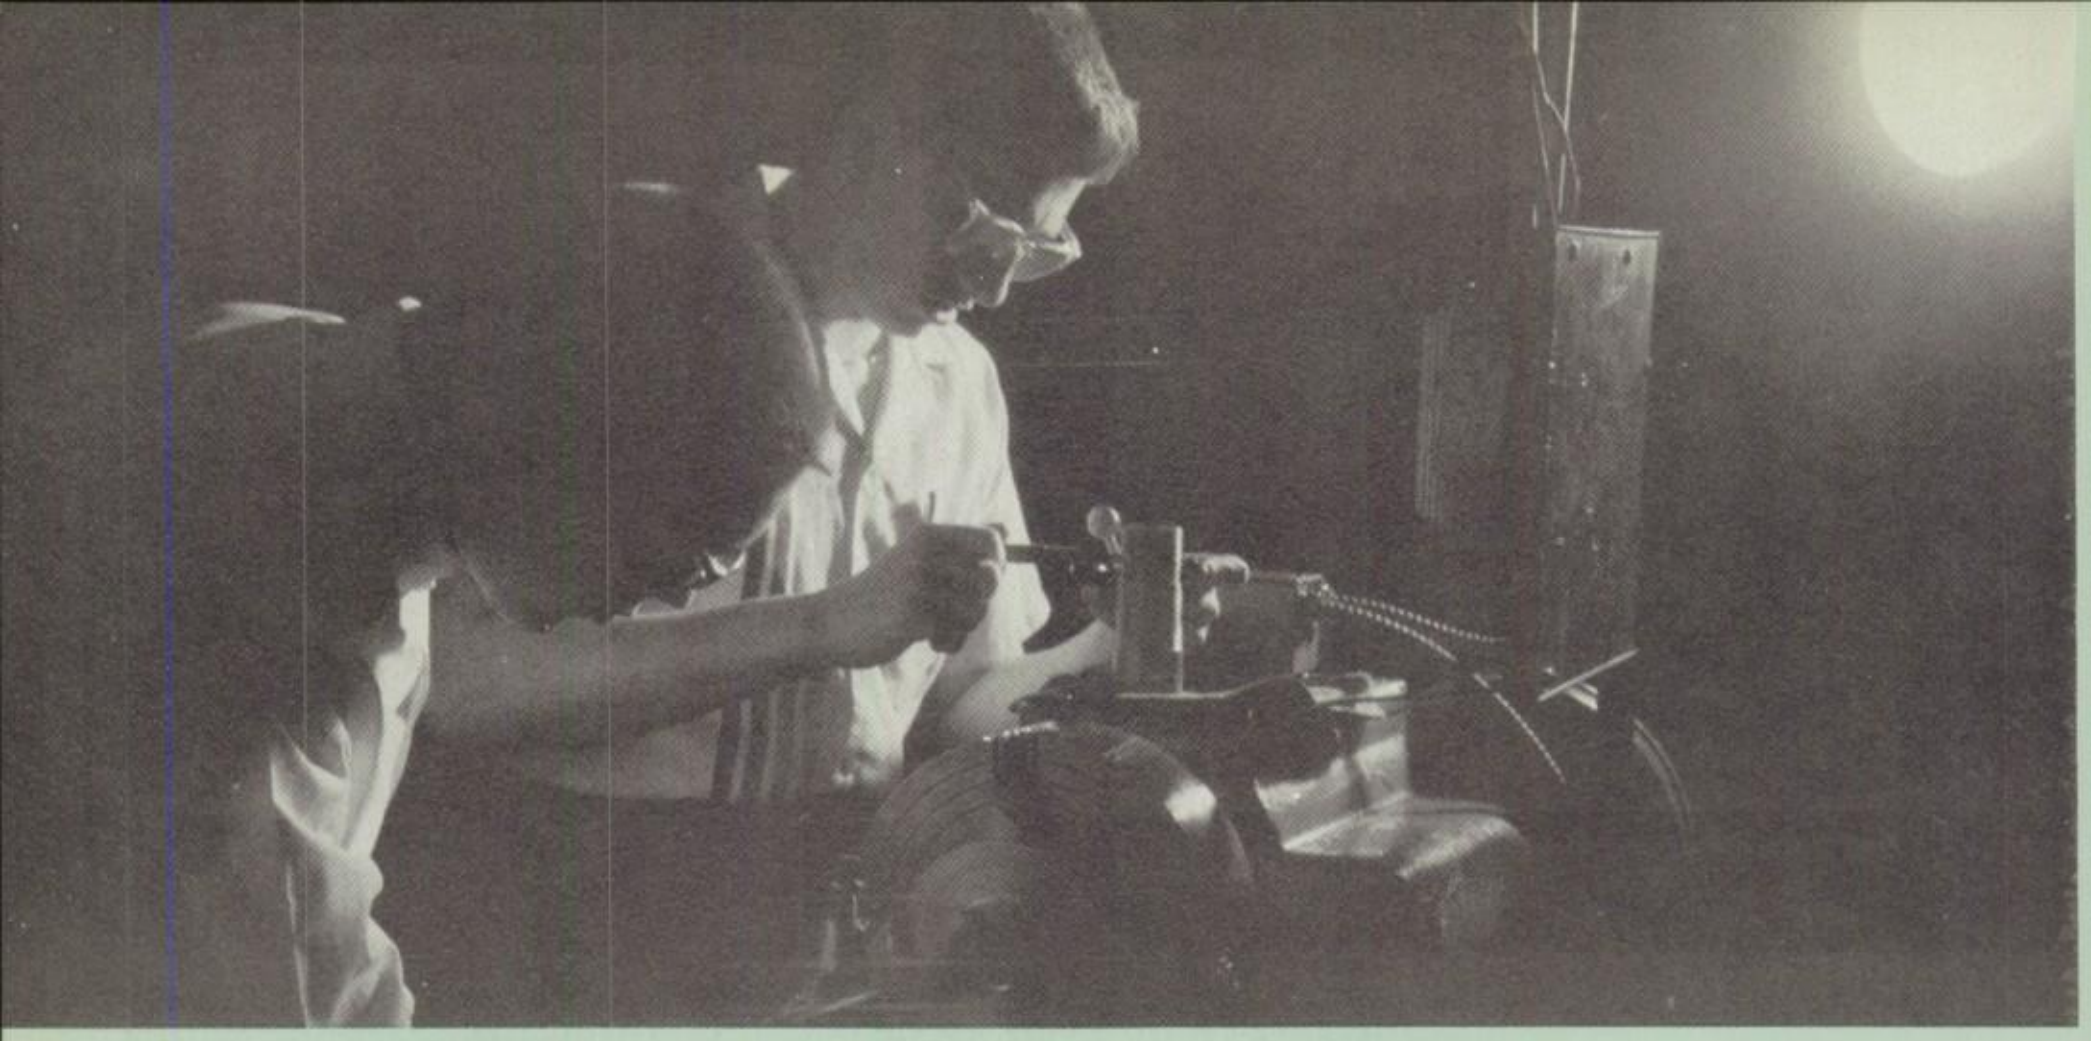
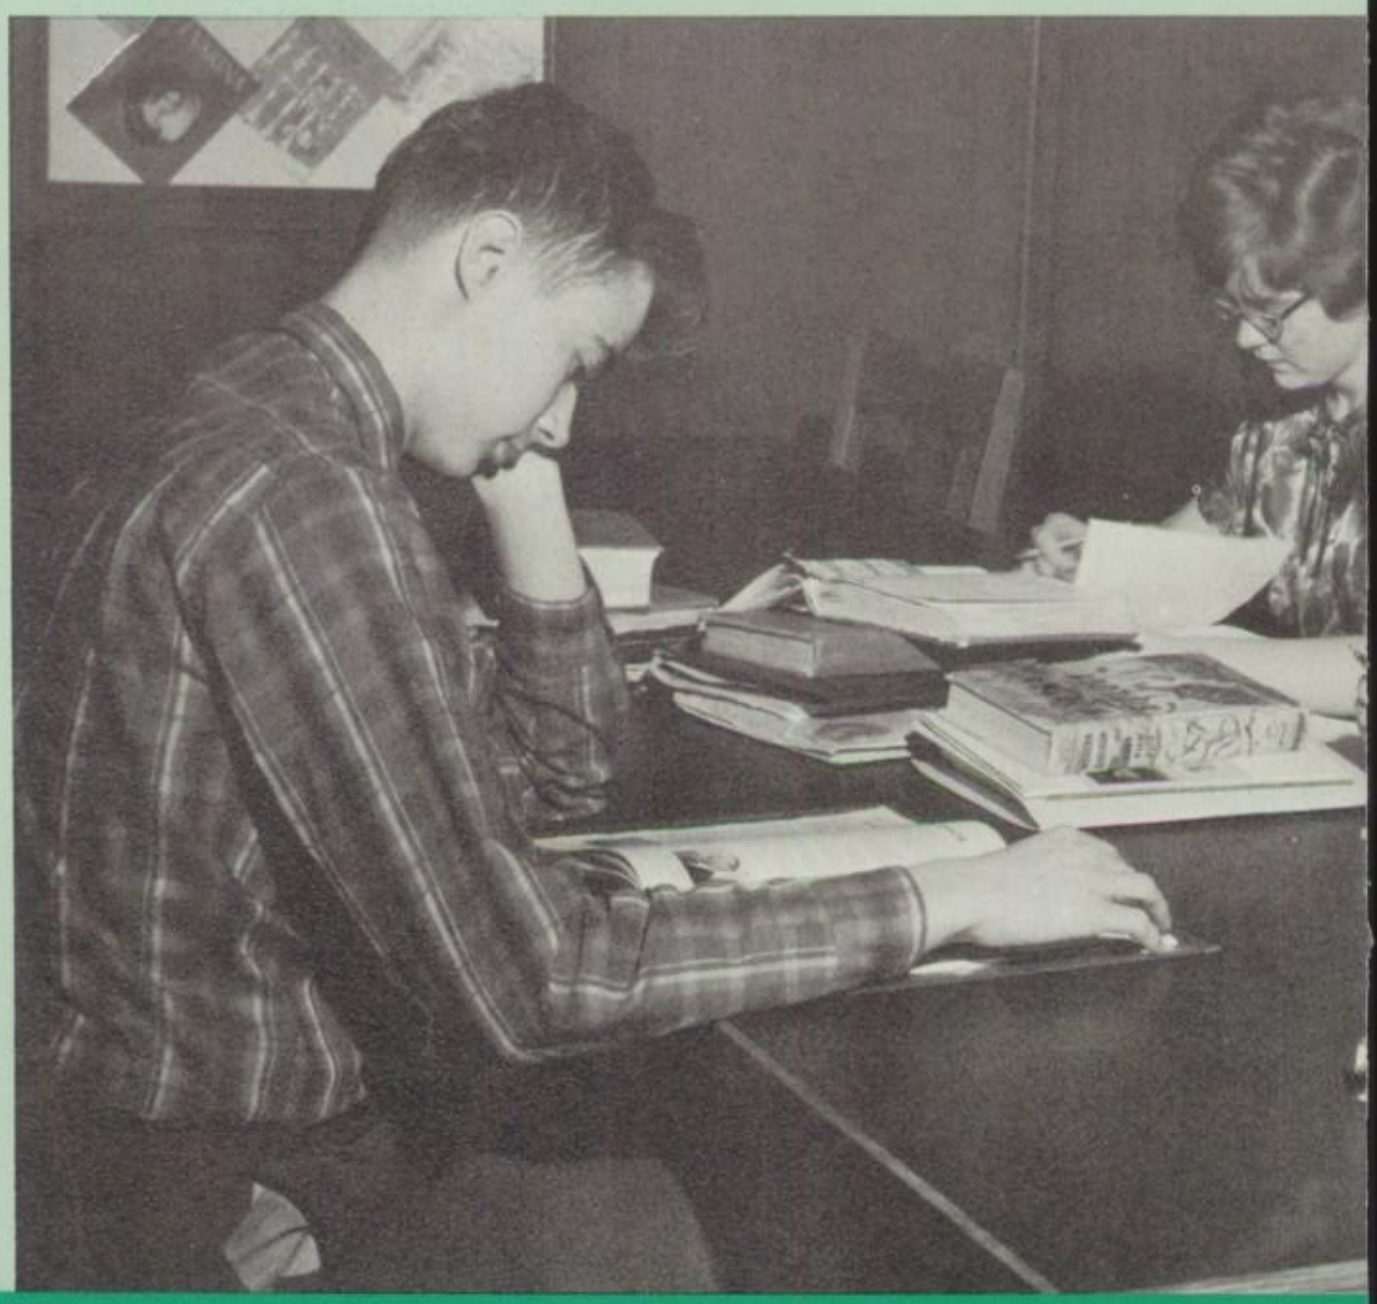
Precision And Perfection

Hampered by rain, wind, and cold, Coach Walter Horvatich's "Longstickers" were again unsuccessful in this, their second year of existence. However, the future looks brighter and better, with a few freshmen and sophomores golfing varsity part of the time, and with only one contestant being lost through graduation. Although no golfers qualified for the district this year, the T.F. team partially redeemed themselves by placing third at the conference meet, held this year at Lincolnshire Country Club, May 13.

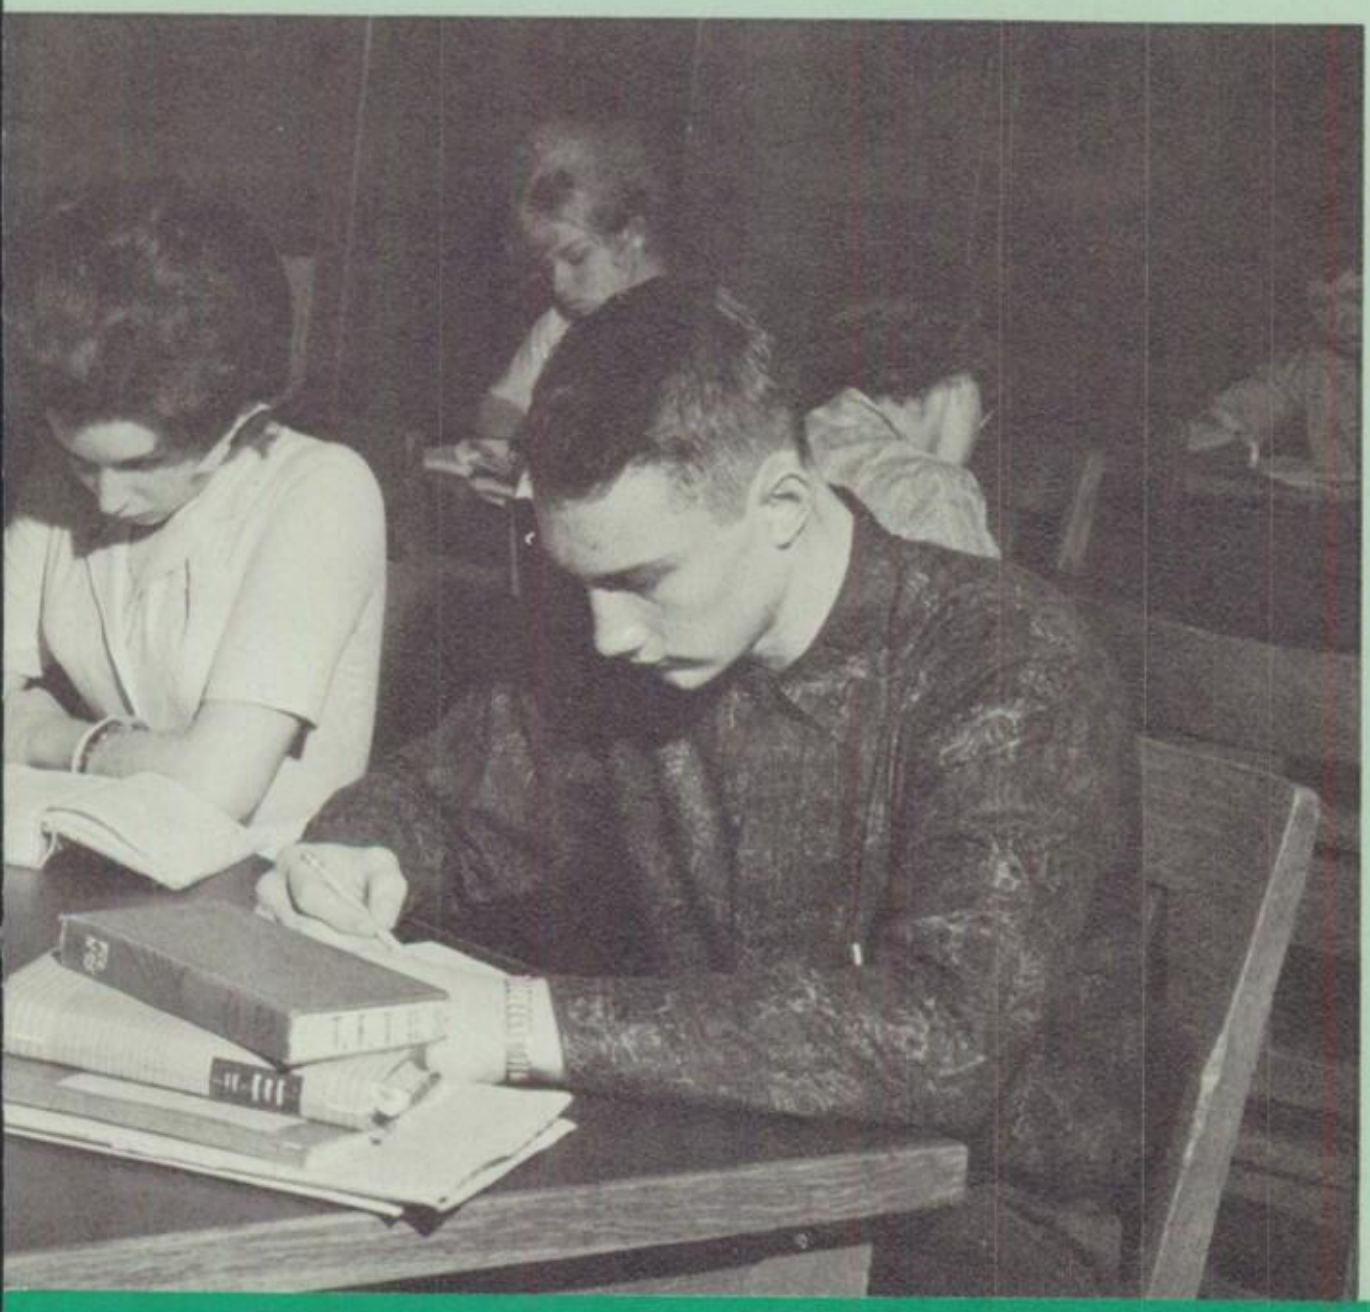


Planning someday to "Go forth to serve," these students prepared themselves by actual on-the-job training.

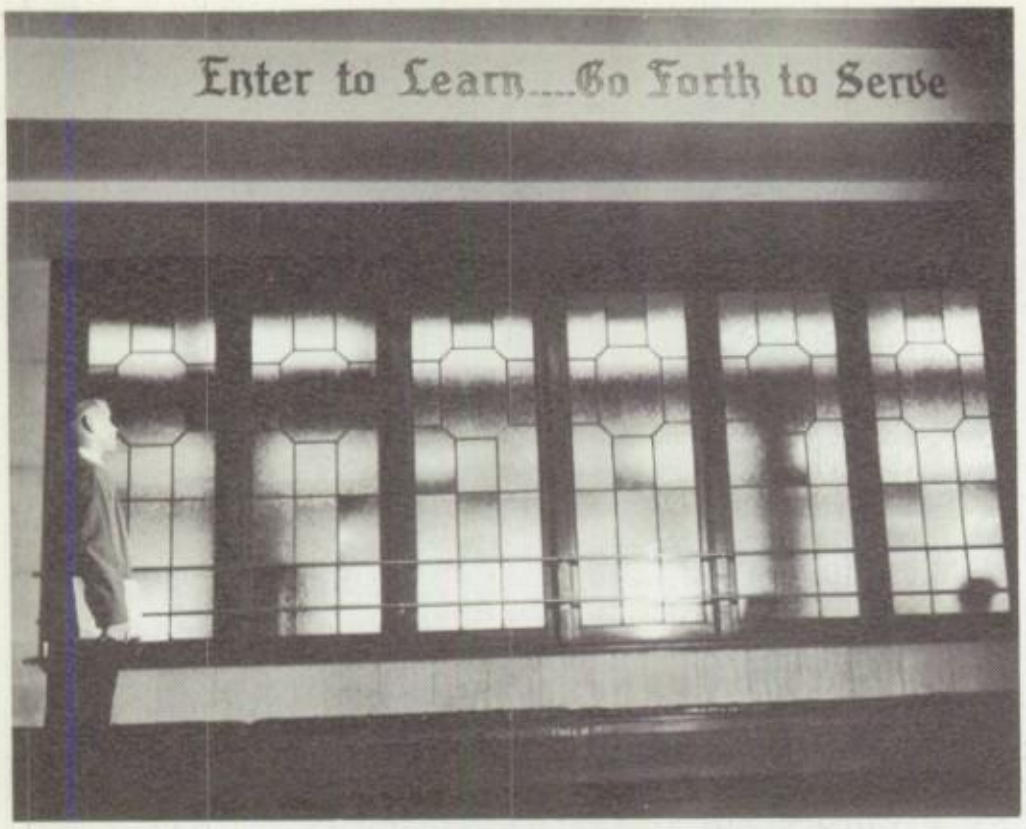


SPIRITED STUDENTS SHOWED

With the purchase of a new "Perpetual Motion" machine this year, many future scientists at North were given the opportunity to understand and evaluate the problems of space travel, besides having a little fun!



SCHOLARSHIP, SUCCESS



An entering freshman ponders on the direction of high school life.

The well-known rescuer for the perplexed freshmen at T.F. North was Mr. Walter Horvatich, freshman class counselor. Mr. Horvatich advised the freshmen on the curriculum to follow and helped them solve their numerous high school problems.

MISS HELEN BRAZZILL
Junior Class Counselor

"May I have first lunch?"

These were only a few of the various questions that Miss Helen Brazzill, junior class counselor, answered as students confroned her with inquiries about curriculum, college and future careers.

Juniors

Every student is proud to be part of a particular class, and the juniors are always busily at work trying to do their best. Their class officers continually promote class spirit as they make plans for Carnival, Homecoming, and their biggest event, the Prom.

Having kept the Spirit of the North before them for four years, the Senior Class officers will now embark on other duties as they leave behind them a year of activities and fun. The officers were in chare of such things as Carnival concessions, dances, and selling cokes.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

MR. GEORGE RUWE
Senior Class Counselor

"Look into the crystal ball and see what the future holds for you," might well be the advice of Mr. George Ruwe, senior class counselor. Besides being caught in a whirlwind of questions, he was also deeply involved with schedules and personal problems of the knowledgeable seniors.

Seniors . . .

"Congratulations" is the deserved plaudit to be given to the Top Ten Seniors for academic skill through their high school years. For the first time, the Top Ten Seniors have been singled out by the guidance department and given recognition for their scholastic senior ranking.

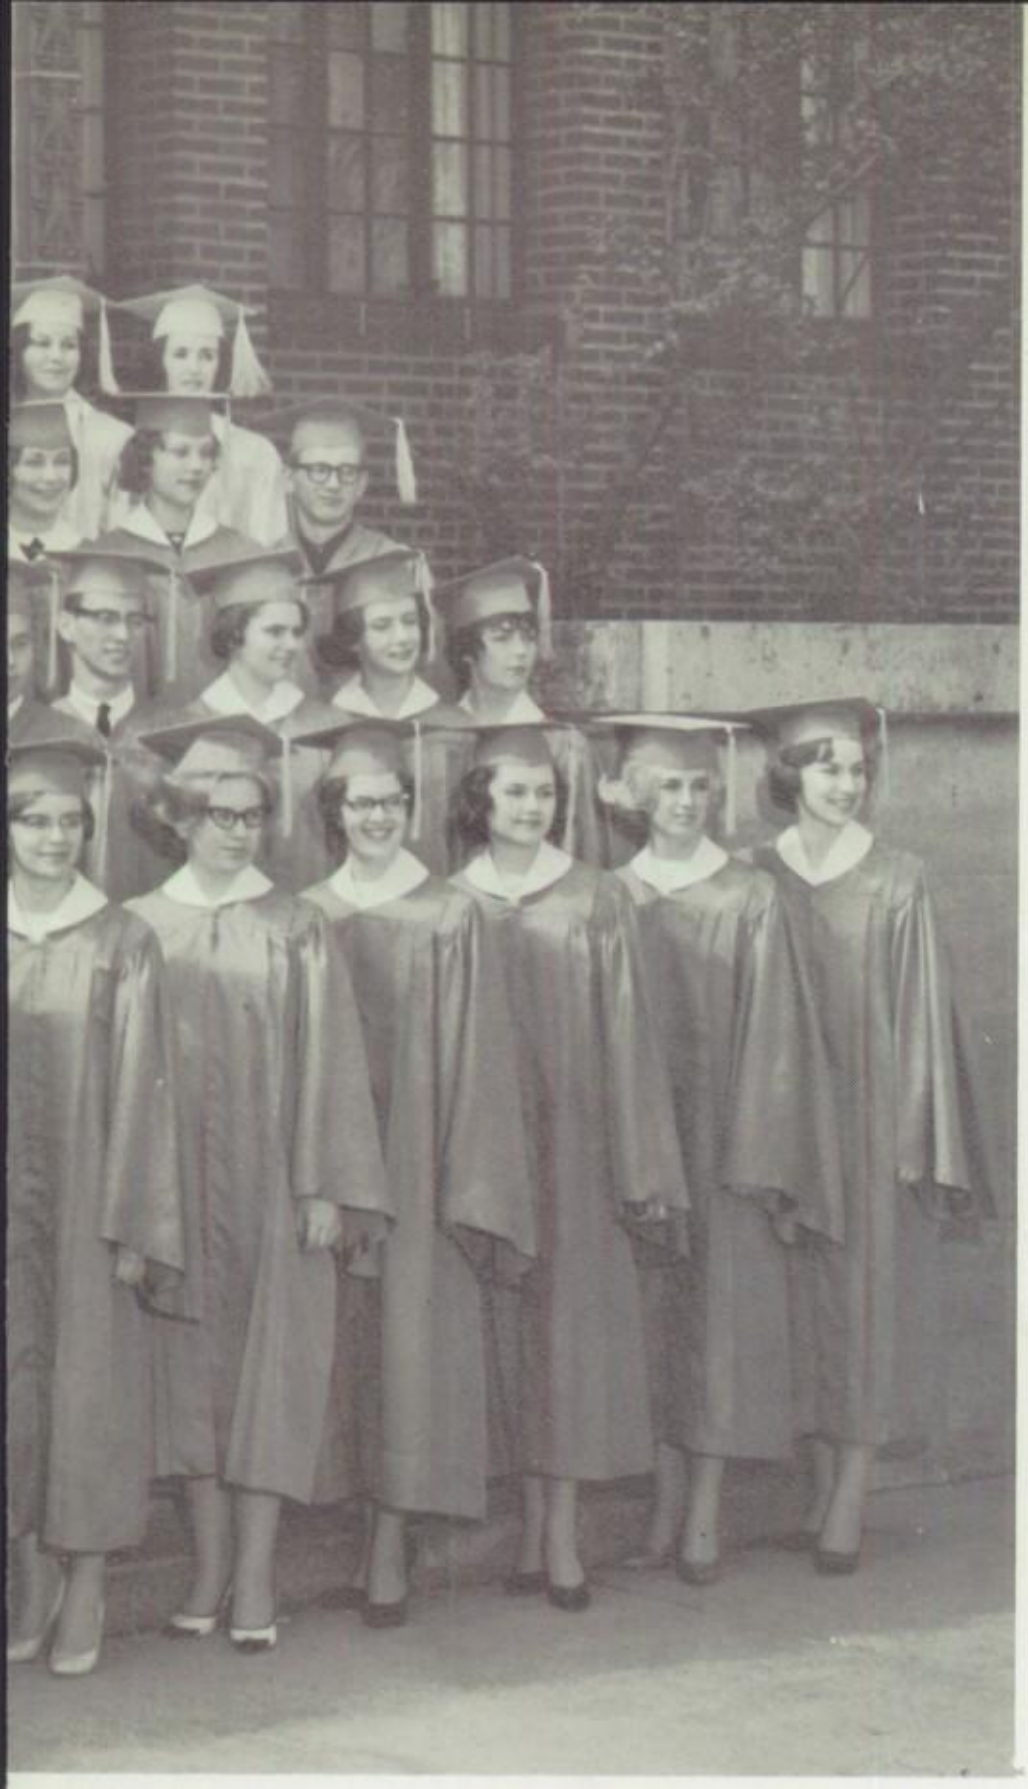
They Conveyed The Spirit



National Honor Society

To the measured strains of the "Ceremony at Margate", members of the National Honor Society marched toward the stage on May 21 to take part in their installation. Ten seniors and twenty-six juniors, whose membership was determined by the faculty, were made members of the society.

The installation took place when Principal Aitken Young presented the pins and membership cards to the thirty-six honored students. The nineteen members installed in 1962 were present to witness the ceremony.

Miss Irma Stefanini, sponsor, and Allan Fedosky, president of the Oasis Chapter of the National Honor Society greeted parents, faculty, and the new initiates at a tea following the ceremony.

These Seniors Received Recognition

Admiring the Distributive Education plaque are Rich Zilz, vice-president; Laurel Lewkowski, president. Standing: Marge Totas, treasurer; Evelyn Wrona, secretary; Georgia Brown, historian.

Education at T.F.N. is not limited to the academic field but reaches into the world of Business. Distributive Education has become a valuable asset to the business curriculum.

The chief purpose of D.E. is to teach the student business knowledge and leadership through experience. For a portion of the day each student is in some position of employment whereby he receives actual working experience along with guidance and help from his employer.

The business organizations in Calumet City, Hammond, and Hegewisch which cooperated with D.E. include: Krogers, Joe Hirsch, First State Bank of Calumet City, Mercantile Bank of Hammond, Monten Service Station, Prince Castle, Woolworth's, Vince's Carry Out, Robert Hall, Steinburg-Baum, R. J. Breski Real Estate, Mode Optical, and Mary-Jane Shoes.

September

Gazing at the tall, red brick edifice labeled Thornton Fractional Township High School North, we feel a sense of appreciation and acknowledgement of it as one of the most prominent buildings of Calumet City. Serving as a force of knowledge and guidance this school has sustained its honorable motto of "Enter To Learn . . . Go Forth To Serve."

For many years our reputable faculty and school administration have devoted both time and energy in an attempt to imbue the ideals of morality and citizenship into every North student. Acting as an arbitrator between the conflicts caused by social and academic difficulties, the faculty have often enlightened a confused teenager.

Returing to school after a long summer of leisure time proved to be a period of frustration not only to the bewildered pupils but also to the teachers. When entering the doors for the very first day of school we, the student body of 1962-1963 were unaware of the many events and activities that were to follow throughout the year.

The Dance Band provided enjoyment and entertainment for our many sock hops. Along with Mr. Paul Mazzacano's group of "music makers" was the talented sophomore singer, Bobbi Serafini.

October

"Little Sisters," who were tenderfoot "freshies," became acquainted with the function of the Girls' Club activities when their "big sisters" escorted them to the annual "Big and Little Sister Party."

Perky and peppy, the North cleerleaders anxiously await a winning football year. After much anticipation the season of pep rallies and spirit boosting, finally arrived. At an out of doors assembly Mr. Jerry Jelinek, head coach, introduced his team of Meteors and instructed them in a series of drills.

Taking home a victory from our first opponents of the season, Calumet Township High School, was evidence of long hours of hard working out and practicing.

"We Beat South" was the cry that resounded for blocks as North fans watched their "Mighty Meteors" triumph over the "Rebels" from the South, by a score of 7-0. Regardless of how the remaining games turned out, proud North students felt that the season was a successful one because of the defeat of the South Rebels. Memories of that hot October 13 will forever live in the heart of senior athlete, Leo Bonin, who was chosen to be a member of the All State team.

Inclement weather seemed to be a slight obstacle for the 1962-1963 Homecoming Queen, Barb Byntar, who was crowned at an indoor coronation by last year's queen, lovely senior, Jo Ann Gunther.

Many juniors and seniors found that attending College Night was a worth while experience when they received much information concerning colleges and courses available.

November

To highlight an evening of festivities Bill Magurany and Sheila Enright were crowned as 1962-1963 Carnival King and Queen. Sheila found it quite difficult to hold back tears of joy during the coronation, which took place in the intermission of the stage performance.

"But Please, Officer Linkel" was the cry of the sophomore girls when addressing Polly Linkewicz, who portrayed the merciless Officer Krumpky in an excerpt from the score of "West Side Story," for the capacity crowd at the Carnival.

College board exams proved tedious for the seniors as they fought to keep grades high, to participate in athletics and clubs, and to prepare for college.

The Girls' Club and Boy's Club united their efforts and sponsored the annual food drive for the needy through the Thanksgiving baskets. Many needy families welcomed the donations of the generous North students.

December

Beneath streamers of cherry red and silver the upperclass girls danced with their favorite beaux at the annual Girls' Club Dance, "Icy Interlude." To give the atmosphere of a wintery scene, Kathy Schneider, general chairman, used as the main attraction a small wooden foot bridge crossing over a pond of ice. Tradition holds that sophomore, junior, and senior girls may invite their own date to the winter semi-formal. The Girls' Club Dance corresponds to the Boys' Club Dance held in the spring. Together the two dances and prom are considered the three most important invitational affairs.

Echoes of Beautiful Christmas music rang out from the North auditorium when the entire music department joined to perform at the Winter Concert. The finale was Mr. John Smely's composition entitled "The Dawn of Christmas Morn."

To keep alive the Yule Tide spirit, North students promoted such things as the Winter Concert, Christmas trees, Ski Sweater Day, the Christmas religious assembly, and Christmas caroling throughout the city.

At North the boys weren't the only ones participating in sports events. It seems "Mrs. G's" newly organized G.A.A., (Girls Athletic Association), struggled desperately to "sink it in" whenever they battled the upperclassmen in the G.A.A. annual tournaments.

January

Even after the Charity Dance had been postponed because of the prevailing sub-zero weather, these two young ladies still managed to keep their dates waiting for them.

Cramming for the mid-term exams, each North student kept late hours with their noses applied to the Chemistry and Latin books.

Tirelessly cheering their team proved to be rewarding to North pupils when their Meteor cagers ended the season with the best record in years.

Aside from the superb basketball season, the North spirit was demonstrated on the wrestling mat and in the swimming pool. The Varsity grapplers took the South East Suburban Conference Championship, second in districts and sent three seniors down state, Ed Albiniak, Romeo Casiano, and Jasper Mangiacino.

The swim team provided tough competition and junior Bob Walker qualified for state competition.

Suzanne Harris and Rodney Wells represented the T.F.N. debate and Thorntonian Editor-in-chief Jill Benjamin, appeared on the television program, "Rebuttal," C.B.S.

February

Having been previously beaten by South at the Rebel's gym, the North Cagers were ready to give the South their toughest contest of the season. However, even with a capacity crowd of Meteors to cheer and with the great determination that is needed to win, the varsity basketball stars fell to the hands of the Rebels again. But, the score was the only loss, for the loyal fans of T.F. North showed astonishing spirit and sportsmanship.

While the North cheers, junior Mark Malak tallies two to aid in tightening the margin.

To "get that rebound and fight" seemed to be the only thought as both squads scrambled to gain control of the ball. But Bob Kotecki and Wayne Puckett were determine to put forth their ultimate effort.

T.F.N. students were exceedingly pleased with Abraham Lincoln, not only because he was a great President but even more so because his birthday called for a holiday and no classes.

We'll always remember the scolding voice of Aunt Eller and timidity of the "Peddler" when the music & dramatic departments presented "Oklahoma," T.F.N.'s second musical production.

March

Smiling faces, brighter clothes, and baseball practices gave indications that spring had finally arrived.

Minding their P's and Q's sophomores donned their pretty clothes and Sunday manners to attend the Sophomore Tea.

Once again T.F.N. played host to the Calumet area basketball tournaments and witnessed Wentworth School become victor after a play-off game against St. Andrews.

"My Heart Belongs To Daddy" was the theme of the annual Girls' Club Dads' Night which took place on March 10. To allow girls and their fathers to have an evening of enjoyment, dancing, and games, the occasion was planned.

College minded seniors became more aware of the nearness of graduation when they received college preparatory booklets from the Dean's office.

Filling out application forms and reading vocational pamphlets were the usual thing for the 1963 seniors when they attended numerous assemblies and lectures concerning colleges and business firms.

Don Lonie kept the student body laughing and attentive when he addressed them at a morning assembly. This speech was concerned with teenage behavior.

April

Proudly to designate our "rank," we donned bows of green, orange, blue, and red on "Bow Day," April 1.

Wearing their prettiest spring cottons junior girls attended the "Junior Tea" on April 23. The annual affair provides the junior girls an opportunity to "chat" with friends and to keep in contact with fellow juniors.

Junior nominees nerviously awaited the "Mother and Daughter Party," when the Girls' Club president for 1963-64 was announced.

History seemed to repeat itself on April 27 when "Shipoopi" was once again the dance craze as Sheila Enright and Ken Arney led the cast of "Music Man" in the funfilled experience. Here the cast sings "Iowa Stubborn."

May

"Carribean Cruise" was the theme and setting of the Boys' Club Dance, May 1.

Many girls showed their appreciation and love for their mothers by taking them to the annual "Mother and Daughter Party."

The arrival of Easter provided us with another need for a vacation.

The 1962 Prom "Evening in Paris," will live forever as one of our cherished memories of T.F. North. We will never fail to remember the color schemes of red white and black and of

We experienced a feeling of accomplishment in the scholastic field when the new members of the National Honor Society were announced. After striving for good grades, and after taking an active part in school activities we were thrilled to be given the privilege of membership in the organization.

Luck in Jim

Terry,
Good luck to a tough guy.
May we always be friends.
Always,
Terry Figliotti

Terry,
Best of luck in the future although I really don't need it -
I know you'll go
a long way.
Remember!
Mary
Tolo

"Dear Constable"
Why is it the only
"pinches" you ever made were female members of the coach..?
Gratia Muchs for so much.
